1. Did you attend the Wild Ones January 15th meeting? If not, please skip to question #5. - Comments

Answer

Mary Anne, and Bruce did a very good job of showing the basic transformation process of converting their home landscape from a "conventional"/Ecologically useless landscape, into one that has a substantial amount of locally Native plant species. The contrast between the "before and after" photos were quite illustrative of the visual differences, and I like Mary Anne's final question to the listers "Why not do this at your own home?!"....

Nice sized crowd.

I liked it.

3. Why did you attend our January meeting? Select all that apply. - Comments

Answer

If the attendance at the monthly meetings get to the point where the room fills to over-capacity, I will then retreat, and go home, (to make room for other/newer members)! So far as it goes, at least the monthly meeting seem to be fairly well attended!

It is always beneficial to attend the meetings.

Meet with like minded individuals and pick up information If I can "take away" one good idea, it has been time well spent. Thank you to all who make this meeting possible.

4. What is your level of satisfaction with the January meeting? - Comments

Answer

From my perspective, everything was well organized as usual.

Mary Ann and Bruce are great people, speakers and native plant experts. Mary Ann's presentation was down to earth and included usable, practical information.

There was a great deal of work that went into the presentation, which was very well done. It was interesting from beginning to end. Motivating speaker.

Excellent presentation, one of the best. Mary Anne had great photos presented in a very professional manor!

Mary Anne did a great job. I loved the touches of humor and her pictures were wonderful.

Practical and useful guidance especially for new members.

5. How likely are you to attend next month's Wild Ones meeting Ephemerals- Harbingers of Spring by Kris Koch from Rotary Botanical Gardens,

Answer

Will attend if weather permits.

We live just too far away. Sorry

It is inconvenient for me to get to the RVC. I will likely attend only when I have a very strong interest in the topic.

I'll be out of town...going to Florida that week. :-)

Unfortunately I am on the board of a religious congregation that meets at the same time.

6. How likely are you to recommend a Wild Ones meeting or event to a friend, colleague or family member? - Comments

Answer

I have recommended your organization to many people who have expressed interest in the activities that Wild Ones is involved with. I have so many other commitments that I am unlikely to be available to attend most of your meetings. However, I do read all of the e-mail that you send out and provide your information to those who demonstrate or express interest. Thank you for your good work!!

Dan Kane, Executive Director, Boone County Conservation District

I definitely would mention it to anyone who I thought might be interested in the Wild Ones "Mission", etc.

Unfortunately, most of the people I know are not interested in anything other than their own little world of routines, and very few people are ever interested in the topics of Ecology, or Nature, etc., etc. [IMHO: It's very depressing!....]

I volunteer at Byron Forest Preserve and pass along meeting and speaker/topic info to my fellow resto workers.
Would like for my family in Long Island New York and Charlotte N.C. to get involved.
I'm just not a salesperson - don't think of doing that.

7. Do you have any suggestions for improving the meetings and events that we offer? - Responses

Answer

You do a great job.

Board members need to mingle with the members instead of clumping together in little cliques. The green ribbons on new members name tags make it easy to spot new members and talk to them. It seemed like I was the only one doing that at the meeting.

Keep up the good work

Car pooling, bring your own mug, look for ways to decrease your footprint.

Be sure to always/often mention the "BASICS" of Ecology! = [...that ALL of the larger animals are dependent upon Insects, and that they are, in turn, dependent upon ALL of Our Locally Native Plants, from which they obtain All of their necessary foods, shelter, and other necessities of life (= GOOD Habitat)]!

Reduce congestion.

No

It may be good to reach out to new attendees. Two of the first three meetings I attended, I did not feel very welcome.

Nope.

Be nice to have coffee available sometimes.

Great speakers and topics already and the volunteers are so conscientious. The library is amazing.

I think the meetings are well run, and there's ample opportunity to network, which is always good.

Keep me well enough to attend!
